WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, November 24.—The most reliable statement regarding the Spanish gun-boats seems to be that the writs of attachment served to-day are grounded upon the affidavit of the Peruvian Consul, that the Government of Spain designed to use them against his Government. It is said the gun-boats may ultimately be released, if the Spanish Government, through their minister, file bonds that they will not be used against a nation with which the United States is at peace.

Charles Cahn, a merchant, has been arrested in this city, on a telegram from the Chief of Police, of Charleston, S. C., charging him with having forged drafts in that city to the amount of $10,000.

A FATED HOUSE BURN.—The telegraph has given a brief account of a shocking accident which took place in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Saturday night. The New York papers give us the distressing details. The house, which appears to have been a fated one, was situated on Farman street, in Brooklyn. It had caught fire in 1865, and killed five firemen by its roof falling in, and when it was being rebuilt, fell in and killed two workmen.

The total loss of the current year, from the 1st of January to the close of the last month, is $33,534,000, which is a very heavy aggregate.

A DISGRACEFUL RIOT.—Our peaceable town was made on Wednesday night last the scene of a most disgraceful riot. A band of lawless, stupid leaguers, after an adjourned meeting, in which they had had the assistance and counsel of sundry carpet-baggers, sallied out with a large drum, and many of them armed with pistols, shot-guns, etc., paraded the streets until long after midnight, making night hideous with yells, shouts, firing of weapons, and offensive language. One citizen's house was struck with the contents of a discharged gun, whether accidentally or not, it is impossible to say; the window glass broken, and his family disturbed and driven from their beds in wild alarm. Notwithstanding the grievous character of this riot, no interference was made on the part of our citizens. We understand that threats were made, too, that for every negro hurt they evidently looking for a collision—ten whites would be made to suffer. In this rabble were one, if not more, of Gov. Scott's loyal constables—of whom there are billeted on the town too many either for comfort, quiet, or safety—and one of the same Governor's appointed magistrates. We demand of Gov. Scott an investigation of this shameful affair, and an interdict against a further occurrence. If a few of the constables were removed perhaps it would be better for the public peace.

[Newberry Herald.]

The Utica Herald tells the following story: "Two maiden sisters, Polly and Sally Reed, aged eighty-five and eighty-three, who have lived alone in scanty circumstances in Brookfield, Madison County, were found by a neighbor on the morning of the 12th instant, Polly dead on the floor, and Sally lying on the bed in a helpless condition. The latter died on Saturday. They were both terribly mutilated about the head and face. They had often before had frequent quarrels on the most trivial provocations. The weapons used were a pair of tongs and a stick of wood. No inquest was held."

We are glad to learn that the Mississippi State Fair, which opened at Jackson on Tuesday, has been a success. The displays in all departments have far transcended expectations. 20,000 persons were present the first day, and each succeeding day was expected to increase the number. Mississippi, though partially paralyzed at present in all her industries by misgovernment, has a most gratifying prospect before her. She has a wonderfully rich soil and an energetic population, and she can make herself one of the chosen spots of the earth.

WADE HAMPTON ON THE FREEDMEN.—There is a State Fair now in progress at Macon, Georgia, and it appears to be attended with considerable success. The agricultural and labor interests of the State are largely represented there, and they are not merely confined to Georgia, but extend over all the Southern States. Many of these Fairs have been held of late, and the effect has been generally good, predicting a largely improved condition of the whole South and showing the advance made in material progress since the disastrous times of the civil war. Gen. Hampton, who has frequently exhibited his wise appreciation of the existing condition of things, and has given many sensible ideas concerning the new relations between the North and the South, expressed himself with some force on the question of treating the freedmen, for the mutual benefit of that class and of the Southern States also. He urged the necessity of cultivating a patriarchal and friendly feeling with the colored freedmen, and the improvement of their moral and intellectual status. This is what the South requires. The Southern people know that the freedmen are there among them; that they are there by law established, either as an incubus to be carried on the shoulders of Southern industry or an element to be employed for its benefit. Wade Hampton evidently sees the matter in this light, and he advises his people well upon this subject. The South is gradually relieving itself from the effects of the late war, and perhaps there are no means which it can employ better calculated to assist the issue than the judicious use of the negro element, as suggested by Wade Hampton. —New York Herald.

The Northern papers, in commenting upon the course of the House Committee on Elections in refusing to go to South Carolina to take testimony in the matter of an election contest, speak of several cases, while in fact there is but one case, (that of A. S. Wallace against W. D. Simpson, of the Fourth District,) where neither party has been sworn in. But in this case, as in that of Hoge against Reed, the committee decided, and so reported to the House, that Simpson was prima facie entitled to the seat, and the matter is only open now to take evidence to establish the legality of Simpson's election—a matter about which there is no doubt, and which will give him the full legal, as well as a prima facie right to the seat. It will be remembered that the Committee on Elections, to which was referred the claim of S. L. Hoge for a seat in the 41st Congress from the Third Congressional District of South Carolina, submitted a report in writing that upon the papers referred to the Committee on Elections on the contested case of S. L. Hoge vs. J. P. Reed, from the Third Congressional District of South Carolina, S. L. Hoge is prima facie entitled to a seat in the House as the representative of said district, subject to the future action of the House as to the merits of the case. This was followed by Hoge being sworn in, pending the real merits of the contest. This comprises the whole situation.

[Washington Cor. Charleston News.]

On the 28th ult., three soldiers from Fort Fetterman, Dakota Territory, while on a hunting excursion, were attacked by about sixty Sioux Indians, and two of the soldiers were killed. The Indians are supposed to have been led by a white man named Richard, formerly a trader at the fort, who left on account of murdering a soldier. Richard had been for some time inciting the Indians to war, by telling them that it was the intention of the white troops to massacre all the Indians on the plains.

The cable tells us that the French Minister to Russia has announced to his master an intended visit of the Czar to Paris this winter. That there is something afloat between France and Russia is becoming more and more certain. Emperors do not usually travel from a long distance to meet each other merely to talk about the weather, or to ask after the progress of their ailments. The Czar has a motive in visiting Napoleon again, and we are likely to hear of it before long.

The cause of the rebellion in Winnipeg Territory seems to be hostility to confederation with Canada. Governor McDougall has the appointment of his Legislative Council, which he has chosen from "pets" of the Government in Canada, and the people are consequently indignant. The Indians are not alone in the opposition to the change of government, but are strongly supported, or rather led, by the white population.

THE BANK OF CHARLESTON.—We are authorized to say that the surplus fund of the Bank of Charleston, after providing for all liabilities, amounts to $824,400, the securities held by the bank being valued at the prices of the day. The surplus, as above stated, is equal to $25 a share on the capital of the bank. An official statement of the affairs of the bank is about to be made to the Comptroller-General. —Charleston News.

Information has been received in Washington of a severe fight with Indians on the Texan frontier. 200 cavalry met 400 Indians on the Upper Brazos, and fought them for two days, when the Indians fled, leaving forty dead on the field, and their camp equipage, horses and provisions. None of the troops were killed, although nine of them were wounded.

Quaker Liniment.
THE SUREST PROTECTION against disease is the timely use of a good remedy. The great Family Liniment of the age, for internal and external use, combined in one medicine.
Not since the introduction of modern Chemistry and analytical research into the hidden mysteries of the vegetable kingdom, has there been discovered a chemical product of such extraordinary curative powers as the "Quaker Liniment;" this truly celebrated medicine was discovered and prepared by a Quaker Doctor, connected with the naval service of the country, his practice was confined to those severe cases which usually result from a seafaring life. Rheumatism, Acute and Chronic, Colds, Coughs, Cramps, Chills, Fevers, Neuralgia, indeed, all acute disorders requiring treatment of those complaints with the ordinary medicine of the day failed to make a cure or relieve the patient. Disappointed and mortified at the result, and stimulated by the promptings of a pure humanity for the suffering, as well as a professional pride, he, after much labor and study, compounded his great Liniment, called the QUAKER LINIMENT. This medicine is remarkable for the peculiar property it possesses in being an internal and external remedy at the same time, and differs from all other medicines in its action in arresting disease.

It is taken internally for Colds, Coughs, Consumption, Cramps, Fever and Ague, Headache, Asthma, Dysentery, Colic, Acid Stomach, in the Stomach, Diarrhea.

It is used externally for Sore Throat, Diphtheria, Swelling of the Glands of the Neck, Head-ache, Neuralgia, Face-ache, Tooth-ache, Pains in the Back, on the Side or in the Heart, Stiff Neck, Lumbago, Rheumatism, it is especially good; it is used on the Bone, or in the Muscles, or joints, for Stings of Insects, Itch, Bites, Itching Humors in the Skin; for all these, and for more than we can enumerate, it is the great remedy.
